

Transforming enterprise planning for technology

Navigate complexity, gain clarity, and drive faster innovation

Rethinking planning for confident decision-making

In a world of constant market shifts and relentless innovation, technology companies must adapt quickly—or risk falling behind. Yet traditional planning methods can't keep pace. When plans and execution are misaligned, the fallout is felt in missed opportunities, inefficiencies, and financial setbacks.

Every strategic shift—whether in finance, sales, marketing, operations, or HR—demands speed and coordination. But fragmented systems, siloed teams, and outdated processes make it difficult to pivot with confidence.

To stay competitive, tech companies need dynamic, enterprise-wide planning that breaks down silos, integrates AI-driven insights, and supports fast, informed decisions. With the right platform—like Anaplan—disruption becomes a catalyst for innovation and growth.

FINANCE

Gain transparency of growth drivers, risk, and financial health

Operating in fast-paced, capital-intensive environments requires agility—but legacy tools and siloed data often slow decision-making.

Anaplan for Finance provides a connected, AI-powered planning engine to optimize spend, reallocate resources quickly, and scale with precision as conditions change.

- Improve data transparency and trust for real-time decision-making.
- Automate financial close and consolidation to accelerate reporting.
- Optimize budgeting and forecasting to fuel innovation and growth.

- Identify key trends to prioritize strategic investments.
- Connect financial and operational plans to improve agility.

HR AND WORKFORCE

Close talent gaps, mitigate risks, and future-proof your workforce

Talent is a key growth driver—but rapid shifts in demand, hybrid work models, and skills shortages make workforce planning increasingly complex.

Anaplan for HR and Workforce delivers real-time visibility into workforce capacity, helping close talent gaps, manage costs, and align people strategy with growth.

- Increase planning speed and accuracy with real-time workforce insights.
- Automate manual processes to improve efficiency and reduce overhead.
- Model workforce scenarios to optimize costs and maximize productivity.

- Use predictive insights to anticipate talent needs and minimize gaps.
- Align hiring, retention, and upskilling strategies with business goals.

SALES AND MARKETING

Outpace the competition with strategic go-to-market planning

There's constant pressure to accelerate revenue growth—but misaligned go-to-market (GTM) strategies and static plans create missed opportunities.

Anaplan for Sales and Marketing connects planning across sales, marketing, and revenue teams to enable faster pivots and smarter investments that drive measurable growth.

- Gain real-time transparency into sales and pipeline data for better forecasting.

- Automate GTM planning processes to move from strategy to execution faster.
- Optimize sales capacity, territories, and resources for efficiency and growth.
- Use AI-powered insights to refine GTM strategies and maximize ROI.
- Break down silos between sales, marketing, and finance to drive alignment.

SUPPLY CHAIN

Balance demand and supply with real-time precision

Demand volatility, product complexity, and rapid innovation cycles challenge even the most advanced supply chains—while disconnected systems limit visibility and control.

Anaplan for Supply Chain synchronizes planning to respond quickly to disruption and optimize inventory, cost, and service levels.

- Achieve end-to-end visibility across supply chain, sales, and finance.
- Automate planning workflows to improve speed, accuracy, and efficiency.
- Unify data from multiple systems for smarter, faster decision-making.

- Leverage AI-driven insights to predict demand and prevent disruptions.
- Align supply chain strategy with business growth and profitability goals.
